

Chris St. John

Vice President, Advancement

Chris St. John is the Vice President of Advancement for Center for Arizona Policy (CAP), a nonprofit advocacy organization committed to promoting and defending the foundational values of life, marriage and family, and religious freedom. A total of one hundred sixty-five (165) CAP-supported bills have been passed into law since CAP made its first appearance at the state Capitol in 1995.

Chris joined the CAP team in 2012 and has worked to build meaningful relationships with CAP ministry friends throughout Arizona. By connecting CAP's mission and vision with like-minded people across the state, Chris works to secure funding in order to sustain this important work for years to come.

Prior to coming to CAP, Chris pastored in churches in Texas and Kentucky for nearly twenty years, and holds a Master of Theology from Campbellsville University. He is a native of Des Moines, Iowa. Chris is married to his college sweetheart, Maranda, and together they have three children.
