

Arizona's General Election is November 3. Do you know who you're voting for, or even who's running?

Center for Arizona Policy makes it easy to get informed with the 2020 General Election Voter Guide and azvoterguide.com.

Visit azvoterguide.com to find:

- A personalized version of the 2020 Voter Guide specific to your district
- Candidates' answers and comments to key questions from those running for federal, state, city, county, school board, and judicial positions
- Biographical information on candidates including why they are running for office
- Researched positions for federal candidates who declined to respond
- Candidate contact information
- Downloadable election resources

Dates to know:

Voter Registration for the General deadline	October 5
Azvoterguide.com goes Live	October 5
Printed General Election Arizona Voter Guide arrives in homes	Week of October 7
Early Voting begins	October 7
General Election	November 3

To register to vote or update your address, visit www.serviceaz.com.

Please share azvoterguide.com with your friends. Chances are, there's something they don't know about the candidates in their districts. At azvoterguide.com your friends will get nonpartisan information on candidates so they, too, can get informed and vote this General Election on November 3.

With so much at stake in Arizona, we can't afford to be passive this election. Now is the time to be steadfast in our values and reflect that in our vote on November 3.

For more information, call the Center for Arizona Policy office at 602-424-2525.